

SERVING VULNERABLE WOMEN SINCE 1977

Chez Doris, vital empowerment for women in vulnerable situations, helping them rebuild their lives and unlock their full potential.

FROM HARDSHIP TO AUTONOMY

A PATH TO AUTONOMY TAILORED TO THEIR NEEDS

Chez Doris offers women in Montreal personalized support on their path to lasting autonomy—whether they are students, retirees, precariously employed, or experiencing homelessness.

When a woman finds the courage to walk through our doors, she often carries the weight of traumatic experiences or is unable to meet her basic needs. Since 1977, we have prioritized providing essential care: food, a safe place to sleep, clothing, and a welcoming environment. Over the years, we have established support programs, preventive care and development initiatives to help women regain control of their lives and become self-sufficient.

Every year, more than 1,500 women find a warm welcome, an attentive ear and essential assistance at Chez Doris. We respect each woman’s personal definition of success.

VALUES THAT GUIDE EVERYTHING WE DO

- Inclusion
We create an environment where every woman feels welcomed, safe, included, and respected, and where confidentiality is always preserved.
- Equity
We support all women equitably by backing initiatives that reduce discrimination. We acknowledge the lived experiences of poverty, violence, and homelessness, while encouraging respectful relationships with Indigenous peoples and other cultures.
- Dignity
We believe that every woman has the right to be safe, included, respected, and accepted for who she is. That is why our services value individuals and are free from judgment.
- Compassion
We place kindness and respect at the heart of our approach, in the belief that every person is capable of growing, rebuilding, and thriving fully.

CHEZ DORIS: MUCH MORE THAN A SHELTER

WHO IS DORIS?

Chez Doris was founded in 1977, in response to a heartfelt plea from Doris, a young woman who struggled to survive on the streets of Montreal.

Isolated, impoverished, and battling alcoholism, Doris dreamed of a safe space where she would not be judged. She never found that place: she was found on November 3, 1974, killed by a horrific act of violence, unpunished to this day. Her wish, however, inspired the creation of Chez Doris, a place where vulnerable women have been finding safety, respect, and comfort ever since.

"Montreal is a wonderful city, but there is still so much to be done to support our homeless women. My commitment comes from my memory of arriving in Montreal as a young immigrant girl. My mother spoke neither English nor French, and we simply survived. Today, it is essential to help Chez Doris support those who have not had the same good fortune. Women are the backbone of our society. Helping them helps us all."

Mila Mulroney

Ambassador, Chez Doris and supporter in the reopening of the Fulford Residence

"A year ago, I was at an all-time low; I had lost contact with my children. I was in a downward spiral, even though I had been leading a normal life just five years before. Just as you can spiral downward, I discovered that with the right help, you can also climb back up. My life has been transformed since I found a place at Chez Doris, in the Marcelle and Jean Coutu Residence. I have all I need to succeed: a family, education—and with so much support, I feel that things are improving every day."
